

LISA ALLEGRA

STUDIO

I am an artist who designs, draws and shapes everyday objects.

I approach form through drawing, but also through materials. This enables me to imagine a variety of pieces, from lamps to dining tables and architectural elements.

My creations are conceived as collections.

These families of objects play with balance: pillars rising from the ground, a cushion suspended in mid-air, a large dome resting on slender legs. The elements touch, lean on and support each other.

I am sensitive to «the presence of absence», of emptiness or of a counter-form.

John Pawson, Donald Judd and Rachel Whiteread are among the artists who inspire me in their search for the essential and the pure.

SAVOIR-FAIRE

Clay is my favourite material because it has the intrinsic power to be shaped by hand into an infinitely small or infinitely large object.

I seek to create forms that are both minimalist and warm, using earthy materials, rounded shapes and associations with other materials such as textiles and wood.

I incorporate weaving, upholstery and carpentry to create objects that reflect my ideas and designs.

This choice to correlate my work as a designer with all these skills means that I am able to produce small series of handmade, long-lasting objects, for which I master both design and manufacture.

I graduated in 2010 from the École des Arts Décoratifs in France

After working in various design studios in Paris, I joined the visual merchandising team of the brand Diptyque Paris. I was in charge of all of the creation of boutiques' windows worldwide.

I move to Barcelona in 2017 and found my own design studio in 2021 to develop my lamp and furniture collections.
